CEO HEALTHCARE ROUNDTABLE WEBINAR | 3:00PM EST

Please join us for a timely 90-minute discussion on the changing role of payer-provider relationships. The impacts and challenges of the COVID pandemic have facilitated many changes in the healthcare delivery landscape. Access to capital for investment, mergers, and acquisitions as well as technology changes are creating opportunities for payers to re-position their approach to relationships with hospitals, physicians, and other providers. The lines between payer and provider are becoming increasingly blurred. As care-delivery in the US evolves, both incumbents and new entrants are reimagining models of care and changing payer/provider dynamics.

McKinsey & Company

What Will Payer-Led Managed Care Look Like in the Future? What Will be the Impacts?

Our featured speakers are Partners and Associate Partners from McKinsey & Company who will present their findings from their December 2021 article, "Innovation and Value: What Payer-Led Managed-care Models May Look Like." This will be followed by discussions on how healthcare payers are re-defining their role in care delivery through provider ownership, technology, and provider enablement to deliver higher-value care to its members. Because of the importance of this topic, we are expanding our program offering:

Webinar is offered without cost to Roundtable Members and their Executive Teams, Guests, Healthcare Organization CEOs and COOs and those considering becoming a Roundtable Member
